If you are working with materials that have a greater hazard, you also need to stock the recognized first aid materials for that hazard. For example when using HF (hydrofluoric acid) you need calcium gluconate lotion. For more information, contact EH&S 949-824-6200.

- To keep them sanitary, first-aid materials are stored in sealed containers.
- First-aid kits are kept in buildings and company vehicles to allow immediate access by employees to them.
- First-aid kits are inspected monthly so their contents may be replenished as necessary.

Approval by Physician of First-Aid Materials

I have reviewed the above list of materials for UCI first-aid kits and approve them as appropriate for the first-aid needs for its employees.
